Charlie the Chef keeps all the ingredients locked away in the pantry, only letting them out when he wants to cook them!

Without doubt, this makes them jolly upset!

So as soon as they can, the ingredients dash out of the pantry dragging all sorts of nasties from the bottoms of drawers and cupboards.

Poor old Charlie! He has to daze the ingredients with flour bombs and knock them into the mixing bowl, because if they go into the dustbins they will be eaten by the bin monster.

Should any rubbish or nasties get into the cake mix then the 'ingredients needed' counter will change, and Charlie will have to work faster, if he's going to bake his cake.
